SUBJECT: Tank pull at Shea Motors (file name Agway Energy)
Middlebury, Vermont

On 23 June I was on site to monitor the excavation of one 3000 gallon gasoline tank belonging to Agway Energy Corporation. The sandy soils had a gray stained appearance and a smell of sewage and gas. The vapor levels registered 0-240 meter units with H-Nu #2 set at span 8.2. Twenty yards of soils were stockpiled on site. The lab in Montpelier is running soil analyses to determine the exact nature of the contamination. The excavation pit has a blue/gray clay bed underlying it.
